

Monash Mobility Competition

WIN Prizes for the best creative on “Interconnecting the
Mobile University
Community”

Monash University is a multi-campus university spanning five countries with its campuses and academic centres. Separated by vast distances we strive to be a connected university and weaved together by modern technologies. Monash University's strategic direction for 2006 is to develop "a high quality campus experience designed to develop the whole individual, encourage all students to benefit from time spent at a second Monash campus" (Monash 2025). The advent of mobile technologies will change the way in which the university operates and renders innovative services to enhance the learning, teaching, research and operational environment. Modern computer and communication technologies will enable connectivity for university students and staff "anytime", "anywhere", with "any technology".

Participants are encouraged to share their ideas on how mobile students and staff may be empowered with modern technologies in their day to day activities.
