FIT5104 Professional practice - Semester 2, 2014

Students are introduced to the practical environment where theory of information management and systems is applied and helps prepare students for entry into the professional workplace. Through a fieldwork placement, students gain in-depth understanding of information agencies and the organisational environment in which they operate. It encourages analysis of links between theoretical concepts of information management, knowledge management and systems, to professional practice in the workplace. The unit evaluates issues in information management and information systems currently identified by practitioners, managers, researchers, organisations, and academics as being of professional concern.

Mode of Delivery

- Caulfield (Day)
- Caulfield (Off-campus)

Workload Requirements

Minimum total expected workload equals 12 hours per week comprising:

(a.) Contact hours for on-campus students:

- One 3-hour lecture

(b.) Study schedule for off-campus students:

- Off-campus students generally do not attend lecture and tutorial sessions, however should plan to spend equivalent time working through the relevant resources and participating in discussion groups each week.

(c.) Additional requirements (all students):

- A minimum of 3 hours of personal study per one hour of contact time in order to satisfy the reading and assignment expectations.

Unit Relationships

Prohibitions

IMS5015

Prerequisites

Only available to students in the Graduate Diploma of Information and Knowledge Management or students in the Library, Archival and Recordkeeping Systems specialisation or the Corporate Information and Knowledge Management specialisation in the MBIS or MBIS Professional. Entry to this unit is subject to approval. The unit should be undertaken after other core units of the specialisation have been completed.

Your feedback to Us

Monash is committed to excellence in education and regularly seeks feedback from students, employers and staff. One of the key formal ways students have to provide feedback is through the Student Evaluation of Teaching and Units (SETU) survey. The University’s student evaluation policy requires that every unit is evaluated each year. Students are strongly encouraged to complete the surveys. The feedback is anonymous and provides the Faculty with evidence of aspects that students are satisfied and areas for improvement.

For more information on Monash’s educational strategy, see: www.monash.edu.au/about/monash-directions/ and on student evaluations, see: www.policy.monash.edu/policy-bank/academic/education/quality/student-evaluation-policy.html

Previous Student Evaluations of this Unit

In response to student feedback the examination in this unit has been replaced by a Professional Practice Research Project. More guest speakers have been included and students are engaged in helping to organise and chair sessions.

Academic Overview

Learning Outcomes

At the completion of this unit students will:

• evaluate professional literature and knowledge in relation to practice;
• analyse current issues relating to the information industry;
• apply theories and practice of their selected specialisation to the workplace;
• demonstrate practical skills at a professional level in an information agency or information-related functional area, as well as an ability to interact effectively with work colleagues and clients;
• assess career opportunities within the information industry and develop a personal career plan;
• evaluate the role in professional practice of ethical codes, professional literature, professional networks and professional associations.

Unit Schedule details will be maintained and communicated to you via your learning system.
Teaching Approach

- Seminars
  Seminars will involve presentations by unit lecturers, guest speakers and students. Students will be actively involved in the seminars which will address a range of professional issues.

  All students undertake professional placements (see below). A one-day seminar will be held in early December for students to discuss their placement experiences and identify related professional issues. This seminar will replace three of the usual weekly seminars. Special arrangements will be made for off campus students if they are unable to attend the December seminar. More information on this seminar will be circulated at the start of the semester.

- Work-integrated learning or industry-based learning
  This teaching approach is experiential learning with active learner involvement in a practical environment. Reflection is used to conceptualise the experience.

Professional placement

This unit involves a 15 day placement supervised by an information professional in a library, archive, records or information management and systems workplace. This teaching approach involves experiential learning with active learner involvement in a practical environment. Reflection and reporting back to a one-day seminar in early December (see above) are used to conceptualise the experience. Off campus students are encouraged to attend this seminar if they live locally. If this is not possible, they will develop presentations about their professional placement which will be presented to the seminar on their behalf.

Setting up placements

Placements are made following negotiations between Monash staff and appropriate institutions with qualified supervisors. In 2014 Joanne Evans is our Professional Placement Coordinator. Placements and their timing depend on the availability of placements at the times required (see below) with due consideration of the student’s interest and level of study achieved at the time of placement. Students can discuss possible placements with host organisations, but the final arrangements must be made by Monash staff.

Objectives

The aim of the placement is to provide an opportunity for students to gain a broad knowledge of the organisation, systems and services of an institution and to gain general work experience. In addition, in some instances, students undertake specific tasks or projects.

Timing

The placement usually occurs in the two periods between: June and July, or at the end of Semester 2, i.e., late November- early December. Placements can be deferred until January-February 2014, if necessary, but this delays assessment. Part-time students may have a special need for a different schedule, e.g., during school holidays, but they must try to work within these broad dates. Flexible arrangements involving part-time work to make up the 15 days are possible if host organisations can accommodate this.
Assessment Summary

Presentation on Professional Placement: 25%; Participation in Seminar and Discussion Forum: 25%; Professional Practice Research Project: 50%; Supervised professional placement and host supervisor's report (PGO grade)

Assessment Tasks

Participation

• Assessment task 1

  Title: Assignment 1: Professional Placement Presentation

  Description: Students will report and reflect on their professional placement in the form of a presentation. You should provide a brief overview of the role of your host organisation, the services it provides, its organisational structure, staff numbers (including type of staff), style of management, and opportunities for professional development. You should also provide a brief overview of the various activities and projects that you were engaged in. The main focus of your presentation should be on identifying 3-4 core professional contemporary issues, based on your observations and work experience. Presentations will be made during the end of year one-day seminar, which will be no later than mid-December 2014, date to be confirmed. Alternative arrangements will be made for off campus students where necessary. Note that the host supervisor also completes a report on the professional placement – PGO (Pass Grade Only).

  Weighting: 25%

  Criteria for assessment: Assessment will be based on how well information is presented and the professional placement is reflected upon.

  More details will be provided via the Unit Moodle website.

  Due date: December 2014, date to be confirmed.

• Assessment task 2

  Title: Assignment 2: Participation in Seminars and Discussion Forum

  Description: Students will be expected to contribute to seminar and online discussions of the topics covered in the weekly seminars, including Q&A sessions with guest speakers. On campus students are expected to attend and participate in all seminars. Off campus students will contribute questions and commentaries online. A unit blog will be established to facilitate the discussions. More details will be provided on the Unit Moodle website.

  Weighting: 25%
Assessment Requirements

Criteria for assessment:
Assessment will be based on how well students contribute to discussions.

More details will be provided via the Unit Moodle website.

Due date:
Weekly according to timetable advised on Unit Moodle website.

• Assessment task 3

Title:
Assignment 3: Professional Placement

Description:
This unit involves a professional placement equivalent to 15 working days, supervised by an information professional in a host organisation. It is assessed at Pass Grade Only (PGO) and is a required component of the unit. The basis of the assessment is a report by the host organisation. Details of placement requirements and the report pro-forma are available via the Unit Moodle website.

Weighting:
PGO

Criteria for assessment:
Assessment is based on completion of the placement, undertaking the work program negotiated by Monash staff with the host organisation, and the host organisation's report. Monash staff monitor the placement, including site visits as needed.

Due date:
As arranged for individual placements.

• Assessment task 4

Title:
Assignment 4: Part 1 - Ethics Case Study, Part 2 - Professional Practice Research Report

Description:
Part 1 - Ethics Case Study

Part 2 - Professional Practice Research Report

The Research Report will include:

♦ evaluations of the professional literature and knowledge in relation to practice;
♦ analyses of topical issues relating to the information industry;
♦ evaluations of the role in professional practice of ethical codes, professional literature, professional networks and professional associations;
♦ reflections on professional practice and engagements.

Weighting:
50%

Criteria for assessment:
Assessment will be based on how well students demonstrate their ability to:

♦ evaluate professional literature and knowledge in relation to practice;
♦ analyse current issues relating to the information industry;
♦ evaluate the role in professional practice of ethical codes, professional literature, professional networks and professional associations;
♦ engage in reflective practice.
Assessment Requirements

Criteria for assessing FIT3124 student assignments will be differentiated from FIT5104 criteria by differentiating depth of evaluation and analysis, and extent of engagement required.

Details will be provided via the Moodle unit site.

Due date:
Ethics Case Study due 19 September 2014. Professional Practice Research Report due 24 October 2014

Feedback to you

Examination/other end-of-semester assessment feedback may take the form of feedback classes, provision of sample answers or other group feedback after official results have been published. Please check with your lecturer on the feedback provided and take advantage of this prior to requesting individual consultations with staff. If your unit has an examination, you may request to view your examination script booklet, see http://intranet.monash.edu.au/infotech/resources/students/procedures/request-to-view-exam-scripts.html

Types of feedback you can expect to receive in this unit are:

- Graded assignments with comments
- Other: Informal feedback on progress in seminars and via email for OCL students.

Extensions and penalties

Submission must be made by the due date otherwise penalties will be enforced.

You must negotiate any extensions formally with your campus unit leader via the in-semester special consideration process: http://www.monash.edu.au/exams/special-consideration.html

Returning assignments

Students can expect assignments to be returned within two weeks of the submission date or after receipt, whichever is later.

Referencing requirements

Referencing requirements will be advised via the Unit Moodle website.
Assignment submission

It is a University requirement for students to submit an assignment coversheet for each assessment item. Faculty Assignment coversheets can be found at http://www.infotech.monash.edu.au/resources/student/forms/. Please check with your Lecturer on the submission method for your assignment coversheet (e.g. attach a file to the online assignment submission, hand-in a hard copy, or use an online quiz). Please note that it is your responsibility to retain copies of your assessments.

Online submission

If Electronic Submission has been approved for your unit, please submit your work via the learning system for this unit, which you can access via links in the my.monash portal.

Recommended Resources

Current journals, newsletters, professional listservs and websites appropriate to the student's professional specialisation.
